there coſin, I came, ſaw, and ouercame.

Iohn It was more of his curteſie then your deſeruing.

Falſt. I know not, here he is, and here I yeeld him, and I beſeech your grace let it be bookte with the reſt of this daies deedes, or by the Lord, I wil haue it in a particular ballad elſe, with mine owne picture on the top on't, (Coleuile kiſſing my foote) to the which courſe, if I bee enforſt, if you doe not all ſhew like guilt twoo pences to mee, and I in the cleere skie of Fame, ore-ſhine you as much as the full moone doth the cinders of the element, (which ſhew like pinnes heads to her) beleeue not the worde of the noble: therefore let me haue right, and let Deſert mount.

Prince Thine's too heauy to mount.

Falſt. Let it ſhine then.

Prince Thines too thicke to ſhine.

Falſt. Let it do ſome thing, my good lord, that may doe me good, and call it what you will.

Prince Is thy name Colleuile?

Col. It is my Lord.

Prince A famous rebell art thou Colleuile.

Falſt. And a famous true ſubiect tooke him.

Col. I am my lord but as my betters are,
That led me hither, had they bin rulde by me,
You ſhould haue wonne them deerer then you haue.

Fal. I know not how they ſold themſelues, but thou like a kind fellow gaueſt thy ſelfe away gratis, and I thanke thee for thee. enter Weſtmerland.

Prince Now, haue you left purſuit?

Weſt. Retraite is made, and execution ſtayd.

Prince Send Colleuile with his confederates
To Yorke, to preſent execution,
Blunt leade him hence, and ſee you guard him ſure.
And now diſpatch we toward the court my lordes,
I heare the King my father is ſore ſick,
Our newes ſhall go before vs to his maieſtie,
Which coſin you ſhall beare to comfort him,

And
